

DEFER ACTION ON SOUTH SIDE PARK

CITY COUNCIL PUTS MR. GANNON'S RESOLUTION OVER FOR A WEEK.

COMMISSIONER GETS ANGRY

Says North Side Councilmen Display Partiality in Apportioning Improvements.

Commissioner Martin J. Gannon became real angry at the meeting of the city council this morning when his promised resolution providing for the condemnation of the College campus for park purposes was laid over for a week, and he charged the north side commissioners with displaying partiality in the apportionment of public improvements. In fact the south side commissioner stated that at least 75 per cent of the money expended for public improvements has been on the north side of the river.

Mr. Gannon's resolution, which he promised last week, and on which action was deferred until next Monday, is as follows:

WHEREAS, pursuant to an Act of the General Assembly of the State of Illinois, authorizing cities having a population of less than 50,000 to establish and maintain, by taxation, public parks, and

WHEREAS, the City of Dixon has a population of less than 50,000 and is now greatly in need of a public park within its limits somewhere on the south side of Rock river (that portion of said city located on the north side of Rock river being amply supplied with beautiful parks, and

WHEREAS, the property known as the Easterly two blocks of College Campus is a beautiful site for a public park, is well developed with trees, grass and shrubs in abundance now growing thereon, thereby reducing the cost of developing and beautifying said tract as a public park to a minimum of cost. These grounds are also conveniently located, are close in and are easily reached via street cars, cement sidewalks and paved streets.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the City Attorney of the said City of Dixon be and he is hereby directed to prepare the proper and necessary ordinance for the condemnation of all of Blocks 12 and 13, according to the recorded plat of Gilbraith's sub-division of the west half of the northwest quarter of section number five in township number 21 north, of range number 9 east of the fourth principal meridian, reference being had to a plat thereof recorded in the recorder's office of Lee County, Illinois, in Book "A" of Miscellaneous Records, page 484, of said block 12 and the northerly line of said block 13 being a rectangular tract 300 feet easterly and westerly and 600 feet northerly and southerly and situated in the County of Lee and State of Illinois, for the purpose of establishing and maintaining thereon a public park.

Aside from Mr. Gannon's resolution there was little of interest before the commissioners at their meeting this morning. The semi-monthly labor bills against the city were allowed and ordered paid, and local improvement ordinances numbers 165 and 166, providing for sewer and brick pavement on North Crawford avenue were passed.

NEW CITY DIRECTORY.

L. Leshnick of Rockford, who prepared and published the last city directory of Dixon, is here to begin the work on another publication of the same kind. Mr. Leshnick's directory was one of the most complete and satisfactory ever issued in the city and he will meet with encouragement in preparing the new one.

CLAMMING EDICT HAS BEEN REVOKED

C. J. DITTMAN OF FREEPORT GIVES REASON FOR WITHDRAWAL OF ORDER.

Freeport Bulletin:—Chairman C. J. Dittman, of the state fish and game conservation commission, has announced that the commissioners have rescinded the order that prohibited clamming during the spawning season for fish. This has been done, Mr. Dittman said, on representation of the clammers that fish do not spawn where there are clam beds and that their knowledge of where the beds are located leaves them to search in only that place and does not disturb the spawn. The clammers also represent that they were already prepared for the reason's work when the order was issued, that such an edict would work an unwarranted hardship.

The commissioners differ with the clammers that their work does not harm the spawn and the order is annulled only because of the lateness of the season. It will be put into effect next year, before the clambers have equipped for work.

Mr. Dittman takes exception to an article in a Dixon paper that no order to stop clamming was issued, the Dixon paper representing that it was only "newspaper talk." Mr. Dittman said that he authorized the issuing of the order and that it is now rescinded for the reason given in the foregoing.

MULKINS CHILD ATTACKED BY DOG

LITTLE GIRL WAS PAINFULLY HURT AT LOWELL PARK SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

The little daughter of Fred Mulkins was attacked and severely bitten by a dog at Lowell park yesterday afternoon. The child was playing and attracted the dog's attention in some manner, possibly by attempting to pet the brute, when it turned suddenly and knocked her down and bit and tore her severely. The little girl was rushed to Dixon at once and the injury cauterized.

The dog, which was a large one, belonged to some people camping at the upper end of Lowell park. It appears that they were there without permission and so were ejected from the grounds by Keeper Graybill.

DIXON BRIDGE FELL 41 YEARS AGO TODAY

ANNIVERSARY OF DEATH OF 43 PEOPLE PASSED WITHOUT COMMEMORATION.

THE TELEGRAPH'S "EXTRA"

Reproduction of the Special Edition of This Paper Giving Story of the Tragedy.

Without any ceremony of commemoration, except in the homes of those who lost relatives in the disaster, the 41st anniversary of the falling of the Truesdale bridge across Rock river at Dixon, passed quietly today. As time moves onward it is evident that the younger generation is forgetting the worst catastrophe in Dixon's history—that tragedy of a fair Sunday afternoon, May 4, 1873.

However, in the memory of those who suffered bereavement in that accident and those who witnessed the sudden collapse of the supposedly safe structure of iron, the occasion will always be. For the falling of the bridge swept 43 lives into eternity and injured many more.

The Telegraph is therefore today,

DIXON WOMAN HURT AND HER BABIES ARE KILLED IN CHICAGO

MRS. LOUIS HOFFMAN, DAUGHTER OF ANTHONY MCMAHON, HIT BY TRAIN.

PILOT CARRIED THEIR BODIES

Father Attracted by Magnet Engine, Finds Children Dead Wife Unconscious.

Anthony McMahon, 1613 Highland avenue was summoned to Chicago this morning by a telegram announcing a terrible accident which befell his daughter, Mrs. Lewis Hoffman and her two children, near Golf, suburb of Chicago, Sunday. The story of the awful tragedy, as told by the Tribune is as follows: "Louis Hoffman strolled out of his house yesterday morning and gazed down the road. He was awaiting the return of his wife Mrs. Bessie Hoffman, who had driven in a two-seated buggy to church in Glenview, with her two daughters, Rose 6 years old, and Irene, 3 years old. The Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad tracks are not far from the Hoffman farm, and the station of Golf, is only a few hundred feet distant. While Hoffman was standing in his yard, the Milwaukee Limited flashed into view. As the locomotive neared Hoffman noticed a queer mass upon the pilot of the engine. He suspected that an accident had happened, and, knowing the train would stop at Golf, ran towards the station.

His Own Children Slain.

When he arrived the train crew and a number of onlookers had gathered about the front of the stopped locomotive and were tugging at the mass of the pilot. He saw the wreckage was a canvas covering which had been torn from a buggy. It was rolled up, much as one would roll of carpet. Members of the crew, including Engineer Thomas Dwyer and Fireman Daniel Geary, unrolled it and Hoffman screamed. The battered bodies of his wife and children rolled out on the station platform. The children were dead, Mrs. Hoffman was unconscious and bleeding.

Mother Grows Unconscious.

The necks of both the children had been broken and their bodies were torn and disfigured. The canvas was dragged out on the platform and Mrs. Hoffman was laid upon it. Not far away the bodies of the children were placed. Mrs. Hoffman regained consciousness, saw the bodies and screamed hysterically. She lapsed into unconsciousness again and was placed on a stretcher and carried along the railroad tracks to the far house.

Two physicians worked over Mrs. Hoffman for two hours in a vain attempt to resuscitate her. She was then put in an automobile and taken to St. Francis' hospital in Evanston. Physicians there found no bones had been broken, but that she was badly bruised, and it was feared she had incurred internal injuries. They were unable to determine whether she had incurred a concussion of the brain.

Tracks Obscured; No Gates.

The grade crossing where the accident occurred is less than half a mile from the Hoffman farm. The tracks in both directions are obscured by trees. There are no warning signals or gates of any kind at the crossing. No flagman is stationed there.

Mrs. Hoffman was sitting on the front seat of the buggy and was driving. The children were on a rear seat. Mrs. Hoffman apparently failed to hear the approach of the eastbound train. It was said to have been going at a speed of forty miles an hour. The trees cut off the view of the track.

The buggy was in the middle of the track when the eastbound locomotive crashed into it. The horse was hurled twenty feet and killed. The vehicle was smashed. Mrs. Hoffman and the children were caught in the canvass top, which was carried along the track and pitched up on the pilot.

Attorney C. E. Gardner of Rochelle was in Dixon today on "professional business."

Terrible Calamity!

Our Bridge Crushed with its Load of Human Beings.

IT IS ESTIMATED THAT UPWARDS OF 200 PEOPLE WERE ON THE BRIDGE AT TIME OF DISASTER.

Over Fifty Perished.—Many Severely Wounded.

The Dead and Maimed.

Yesterday afternoon, about fifteen minutes after one o'clock, as the Rev. Mr. Pratt was passing a convent for baptism into the water of Rock River, just below the bridge on the North side, there being a large crowd of men women and children witnessing the ceremony from the bridge, the iron work gave way and without a moments warning fifty or sixty souls were launched into eternity. Words can not describe the horrible panic that then seized the vast crowd upon the banks of the river and of course spread through our city, for mothers came to the river bank anxiously acquiring for children, fathers for wives and children and all was horror and excitement.

The bridge was torn and broken and hung from the piers an appalling sight in itself. The bents at each end were crushed into the river. That at the north end, held firmly to the bottom of the river, in its net-work of iron the children, relatives and friends of our people; many of them women and children. We give below a list of the WOUNDED.

"Seth. H. Whitmore, dangerously; Char. Murry, leg cut and other severe injury; Mrs. Murry was also slightly hurt; Mrs. Daniel Cheney, it is feared fatally; James Camp, Jr., severely; J. B. Countryman, Mrs. B. Deshon, William Crook, Wm. Hart, Mrs. Tyler, Mrs. W. Wilcox, Miss Thacher, Mrs. Wm. Stevens, Miss Addie Clute, severely; Mrs. E. B. Baker, Mrs. Doctor Smith, Miss Page, Mrs. Marsh, Miss Marian Thacher, Mrs. John More, Mrs. Vann, Miss Lizzie Mackey, B. F. Burr's daughter, Eliza Cuddington, Mrs. Edgerton, Dr. Hoffman, Miss Hazenplug, Mrs. P. M. Alexander,

Mrs. P. M. Alexander, reported wounded, died this morning at three o'clock; Mrs. Daniel Cheney is now better; Mr. Charles Murry has a fractured bone of the leg and collar, and severe flesh wound but is doing well, this morning, Mrs. Murry is also comfortable and better.
Miss Ella Campbell, of DeMont town, severely hurt, is doing well; Jennie Camy is better; Addison Gernsey is not badly hurt; Mr. Cook is not dangerously hurt; Mrs. Wm. Vann is not expected to live; Mrs. March is better this morning.

There were several buggies on the bridge, and strange to say, no one in these were injured and the horses also escaped. Dr. C. J. Reynolds and J. B. Pomeroy; Mr. and Mrs. Fowler; Johnny Eustace; George Morris, and Wm. Shillock were in buggies on the bridge. The latter's horse and wagon is still on one of the bents of the bridge where its owner must carry it feed.

There is a report that several bodies of children were found at Sterling and Rock Falls, though this is hardly possible.

Jacob Armstrong, Jr., went down in the crash and was compelled to crawl upon the bottom of the river, out from under the side walk of the bridge, but but being an athletic young man, saved himself and then help secure several.

Charles McBride deserves great praise for saving many lives. Col. H. T. Noble made a narrow escape. He held Mrs. Dr. Smith's little child and went down with it and came up and saved the little girl and barely saved himself. Mrs. Noble was several feet from her husband but he could not reach her in the fall for there was a mass of human beings between him and her.

Tony Brautigan, a little boy of eight years, clung to a plank and was picked up safe half a mile below.

Ed. Patrick leaped into the water and saved several lives. Will Daily took hold with a noble energy and saved many lives, and also pushed on a plank to the shore three women then pulling off his coat and boots swam back and rescued Dr. Hoffman who was on the bar about half way to the railroad bridge.

Wm. Daunter saved several lives. Fred L. Shaw saved five or six. Ed. Patrick saved several. Henry Wood yett swam boldly into the deep water and rescued many. Will Schuler, Joe Haden and Eustace Shaw narrowly escaped by swimming to the shore after extricating themselves from the iron work on leaping from the bridge into the river.

There were several bodies taken out of the river as far down as below the railroad bridge. The body of Fred. Hape, a German baker, was found floating on the water nearly a mile down the river.

This morning we learn that all those reported missing are probably in the net-works of the bridge at the bottom of the river. After a night's work under the superintendence of John C. Jacobs, of the Illinois Central (who kindly rendered much assistance) there was a derrick erected last night and it is hoped this morning that the iron work may be lifted so that the bodies will be released and recovered.

It is feared we have not yet learned the extent of the calamity, for there may have been many on the bridge from the country whose names we have not been able to get.

Author Blacksome, face severely cut; Mrs. E. Edgerton is severely hurt but it is hoped she will soon be well.

Mrs. Wilcox is alive and it is hoped she will recover. C. Barth, P. O'Neal, Will. Sussmiller, Joseph Hayden, Thos. Mc Martin, Mrs. P. Brautigan, Wm. Stevens, F. F. Dixon, Margaret Nagle, Jas. McMahon, A. Bloxam injured. Jennie and George Laing had a narrow escape. George's foot was caught in the iron.

We give the above in haste for the mail with all the errors of type missing—Mrs. Hendrix's two children; Elizabeth Mackey.

Joseph W. Sha, severe wound in the leg. Mrs. Lilly, ankle broken; Wm. Loveland, severely hurt.

FIRST PUBLISHED ACCOUNT OF THE DISASTER

5, 1873. The Telegraph gave the first published account of the disaster which cost the lives of 43 people, and which will always form a chapter of sorrow in the history of Dixon. Readers of the Telegraph—there are many who have been receiving the paper since that date—will note into the mails. It was published without correction of the typographical errors, the necessity of haste precluding proof-reading.

DIXON HIGH IN AN EASY VICTORY

LOCAL BALL TOSSERS BUMPED POPO BUNCH 33 TO 3 IN GAME SATURDAY.

NEW PITCHERS TRIED OUT

Coakley and Graff Pitched Dandy Ball—DeKalb to be in Dixon Next Saturday.

The Union High School team romped away with Polo high in a peppery contest at Polo Saturday, piling up 33 runs to Polo 3.

The Dixon bunch were in rare form as a direct result of a week of hard work and consistent practice. They displayed great bunches of pep and at times treated the spectators to some splendid bits of base ball, such as when Dollahan and Frank Curran made exceptional catches.

The boys made some use of the stick and hit freely and with precision, ran bases well and used their bean in looking them over. Duffy pulled a homer and Haley a fine three bagger.

It goes without saying that Polo had no look in from start to finish, but at the second stage of the game, a costly boot by Dollahan let in two runs. If the rest of the team would keep their heads at such times all would be well, but such is not the case. The error on the part of Dollahan was excusable as the field around second resembled fresh plowed ground.

Our old standby, Aekert, warmed the bench Saturday, in order to give the other two sphere slingers, Coakley and Graff, a workout. Both deserve much credit for the performance they put up. They demonstrated the fact that they can deliver the goods and sure had it on Polo. Coakley pitched headily and consistently for seven innings and then was removed in order to give Graff a try out. Graff started things off with a whirlwind rush, fanning three men straight in the eight, on nine balls pitched. Both are promising young twirlers and with experience and careful observance of what the coaches have to say, should develop into formidable pitchers.

The out field came into its own for the first time Saturday. Ray Curran romped across the field and backed Byers up in a fine manner in the sixth. Schrock also made some good catches.

Duffy starred at the hard hitter and as usual fielded his position well. However "Duff" while it is nothing to his discredit, has quite a fault. As chief of the crew "Duff" should assert himself more, when a member of the team is at fault or the umpire pulls something rotten. It is his right to run things and as captain he should take advantage of this and put his long base ball experience to some use other than merely playing the game, for proper direction of a ball team has much to do with that team's success.

Right here it is wished to correct the rumor that Frankie Curran had lost an arm. He still has two, but did not feel disposed to use them in fielding an easy grounder, and so let in a run.

Lennox was on the job every minute with the big mitt and shows great improvement. The Polo lads would attempt to steal second and Lennox caught them all with four pretty pegs to second.

The whole local team showed great class and surely will be in rare form for next Saturday's game here with De Kalb.

This is to be their hardest game of the season, as De Kalb has been beaten but once this year and that by Elgin, the strongest team in the state, outside the local bunch.

Every fan should attend this game for it is guaranteed to be one worth witnessing.

CARPENTIER WILL MEET SMITH SOON

FIGHT WITH GUNBOAT SMITH WILL TAKE PLACE IN LONDON IN JUNE.

The plans of George Carpentier, the French light-weight, for a tour of the world have been set back as the result of the match made with Gunboat Smith. This bout is to be held in London late in June and the fact that the match was made after Carpentier was in receipt of excellent offers for such a tour indicates clearly the confidence of the French pugilist and his backers. According to preliminary negotiations between M. Descamps, manager of Carpentier, and "Showey" Baker, the Australian fight promoter, Carpentier was to have received $40,000, and expenses for three bouts in Australia. It was proposed to match him with Dave Smith, Eddie McGoorty and a third opponent with an interval of several weeks between bouts. Carpentier was expected to return to France via America, meeting several boxers of prominence, while in the United States.

This campaign, which would have netted the French boxer many thousands of dollars, was the principal reason for his exemption for another year from the French Army service. If he should succeed in defeating Gunboat Smith, his ability as a drawing card will be greatly increased, but should Carpentier be counted out there will be little demand for his services, either in Australia or the United States, so far as championship bouts and his backers have every confidence in his ability to defeat Smith is shown by this change in the Frenchman's campaign, notwithstanding that Smith is generally considered the equal of Joe Jeannette, who won a recent decision from Carpentier, after twenty rounds of fast boxing.

IS IMPROVED.

TWO BABES DIE UNDER TRAIN

Mother Is Seriously Injured While Driving From Church.

Chicago, May 4.—Two children were instantly killed and their mother was injured, probably fatally, when a buggy in which they were riding was struck by a Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul train in Glenview. The children were Rose and Irene Hoffman, daughters of Louis Hoffman, a cousin of Coroner Peter M. Hoffman. Rose was six years old and Irene three. Mrs. Hoffman had taken the children to church, and was returning to her home in Glenview. The mother was driving. The buggy was upon the tracks before the occupants saw the train approaching from the west.

The children and their mother were caught in the wreckage of the buggy and wrapped in the canvas top.

Akron, O., May 4.—H. P. Harris, aviator, making an exhibition flight here, met instant death in a 600-foot fall when the left wing of his Curtis biplane broke entirely from the machine. He jumped from his seat when 100 feet from the ground. His neck and back were broken, and death occurred before a hospital could be reached. Thousands of spectators witnessed the tragedy. It was in making a sudden dip that the strain became too much for the wings. Harris was thirty-five years old and married.

"Oh, laugh if you want to," said he. "A fellow tried it once. He must have been nutty. He died. I found his whole plant put away in the back room of the store when I bought out Moreno. The Mexican took the works for a small debt—an old 'army' press, some type, ink."

"Where is that stuff now?" demanded Kilbourne.

"Oh, it's down there yet," said Parks easily. "I never bothered with it, and there ain't any market for junk closer than Durango."

Kilbourne looked at Meegan, and together they looked at Parks.

"Right here, on this very spot," said Kilbourne impressively, "we found, create, institute, organize, and incorporate the San Miguel Messenger. I speak to be owner and publisher because all any owner ever has to do is furnish the money. That lets him out."

"Me for the editorial department," said Meegan. "And I'll show these folks around here what a real sporting page looks like, believe me!" "That being the case," said Parks solemnly, "I'll print it. You ain't got a thing on me. I'm as game as you are. And as much of a blamed fool," he added softly.

Pop Frisbee had several good friends among the newspaper men, and when ever he was in Chicago he made it a point to drop in on Charlie Hough. Charlie was an old timer and had a record which reached back to the days of the Brotherhood. Pop had known him for nearly twenty years.

The big league pennant races were drawing to a close when Pop dropped into Chicago on his way west. While he did not mention the fact, he was headed for Albuquerque. By slow stages he intended to reach the principal city of New Mexico in time for the great annual baseball tournament which takes place in the fall after the close of the big league season. This tournament is the great attraction of the state fair, and the cities of the southwest often hire the best pitchers in the country to represent them in the annual struggle for glory and the $1,000 purse. Pop Frisbee never missed that Albuquerque tournament, for there he knew he would find the flower of the southwestern diamonds.

Charlie Hough was glad to see Pop and chatted with him for several minutes. Then he was called to the managing editor's office and left Pop alone beside the roll top desk.

A pile of papers lay upon the top of the desk, and Pop ran through them, glancing at the sporting pages. Halfway down the pile he came upon a stranger—the San Miguel Messenger. It was a queer looking sheet, and when Pop saw that it was published in San Miguel, Rio Arriba county, N. M., he slipped it into his pocket. There might be some news of the coming tournament.

That night at his hotel Pop remembered the Messenger and drew it forth. It was not much of a newspaper, as it contained only four small sheets, and under the title line appeared a peculiar motto:

Vino, vinegar and vinegar, frijoles not regarded as legal tender.

Pop glanced at the front page. Leading the paper was an amazing news item:

We regret that we must once more call public attention to the habits of our esteemed fellow townsman Senor Juan de la Cruz. Juan was over at Tony's again last night, bathing his vitals in liquid turpentine. After he was pretty thoroughly potted he proceeded up Tin Can boulevard until he reached his bungalow, where he was greeted by the charming and popular Senora de la Cruz, the beautiful and talented society matron and leader of San Miguel's Four Hundred. In the excess of his alcoholic celebration, the ebullition of his spirits, Senor de la Cruz settled a right haymaker upon the delicate smother of his queen consort, Senora de la Cruz, not quit under punishment. She immediately retaliated by biting her lord and master between the eyes with a copper kettle. Senor de la Cruz took the long count and is around town this morning with his limbs trimmed down.

We have frequently deplored the prevalence of such occurrences in our best circles, and it would seem that alcoholic excesses are undermining the foundations of our social fabric. The fundamental principles of our social structure are threatened.

I intended to print in this number a great blank verse poem entitled "The Debauched Rump," but our staff poet sought his inspiration in the subject of his lofty lines and found so much inspiration that he is now confined in the bastille until such time as he ceases to see herds of red, white and blue elephants, pink mice and other peculiar animals.

This gem appeared under the heading "Soaked!"

On the same page there was another startling item:

APACHE UPRISING!

It was rumored that upon Wednesday last there was an uprising among the Jacarillas. This we wish to deny in the strongest terms. We were on the inside of the insurrection, so to speak, or at least we had some dope on the inside of the uprising, and we now explain the whole sad affair.

Our late printer's devil, whom we christened Sokalexis P. Bender, better known as Man-Who-Lays-Down-on-His-Job-and-Refuses-to-Get-Up-Again, was an aged Apache of the Jacarilla tribe. He claimed to be the second cousin of Henry Clay Geronimo, formerly a citizen of prominence in these parts and well known in Washington. After the late Rocks had concealed about a pint of squirrel booze the family resemblance became most striking.

Last Wednesday, being thirsty, the aforesaid Sokalexis P. Bender horned into the editorial sanctum and snared there from a half gallon jug of St. John's Celebrated Spavin Cure, believing the same to be rye whisky. Citizens who saw our late employee throwing handspans in the middle of Lafayette boulevard placed the wrong construction upon his actions. The uprising was a personal affair and entirely internal. The interment yesterday was private.

Pop Frisbee read these items with a corrugated brow.

"Huh!" he snorted. "Some bush league newspaper man trying to be funny."

Then he opened the paper to expose the inside sheets, and his opinion of the San Miguel Messenger suffered a runs and a double; Singing Mule had two doubles and a triple; Footloose Pete with four hits out of four times up had a home run, a triple and two singles, and Bad Hornet had two triples.

Then came the crowning surprise—the name which appeared at the beginning of the story of the games. There it was, just as Pop Frisbee had seen it a thousand times in days gone by, in ten point gothic—"John Meegan, Jr."

"Johnny Meegan!" said Pop. "So that's where he went! And he's working on a rotten little paper like this! Too bad! Well, there's one boy who knows a ball player when he sees one. What does he have to say?"

John Meegan, Jr., had a great deal to say. His account of the game between the Apaches and the Boston Terriers left no vague shadow of doubt in Pop Frisbee's mind. From the instant his eyes alighted on the "standing of the league" he had felt the inclination to make a trip over into Rio Arriba county, wherever that should prove to be, and take a look at this unknown collection of ball players. When he ran his eye down the figures which represented the terrific hitting ability of the Apaches the inclination grew stronger, but when he read what Johnny Meegan had to say about Aztec Antonio, Singing Mule, Footloose Pete and Bad Hornet the fate of the Independent Northern New Mexico league was settled. Thus wrote Johnny Meegan:

Never has such a hitting team been gathered together in any league of the country. Kilbourne, who twirled for the Boston Terriers, had all his usual control, curves and change of pace. He mixed up his repertoire with all the skill at his command, but man after man the Apaches walked to the plate and smashed the ball to the fence. If the Terriers flinched at times it was because the balls which were hit through the infield traveled at such terrific speed that it was physically impossible to handle them cleanly. On the other hand, Antonio, using his lightning speed at all times, held the Terriers helpless and all but helpless. Kilbourne's men were game and fought hard in the face of an overwhelming defeat, but no pitcher seems able to stop the Indians when they begin to hit.

Frisbee stopped off in Denver to greet a few old friends and ask some questions about western leaguers. On the second afternoon, as he was loafing in the lobby of the Brown Palace, he saw Davy Martin limp in with his suit case and write his name on the register. Davy was the scout for the Benedicts—the very miscreant who had robbed Pop of the timber league pitcher aforementioned. Pop held a newspaper in front of his eyes until Martin was safe in the elevator, and then going to his room he hurriedly packed his suit cases.

"It wouldn't surprise me a bit if Davy was after the same bunch," he thought to himself. "Well, if he beats me he'll know he's been traveling!"

A night spent on a Denver and Rio Grande Pullman landed Pop in Alamosa in time for breakfast, after which he embarked on a narrow gauge train for the long, jolting ride over the Cumbres pass, with Chama as the objective point. The train was delayed so that a night at the Chama House was necessary, and the following day Pop climbed into the backboard for San Miguel.

"A mistake," thought Frisbee. "Baseball in a dump like this? Not in a thousand years! Hey, boy, what's the name of this place?"

A fat, pork marked young Mexican emerged from Parks' general merchandise emporium in time to answer the question. It was indeed San Miguel.

Pop stood in the whitish dust between his suit cases and felt in an inner pocket. His brain staggered between doubt and certainty, and he clung desperately to a printed word, as men have done since newspapers were invented.

"Amigo," said Pop, pointing to the heading of the paper which he held in HUERTA READY TO QUIT POST AND COUNTRY?

Vera Cruz Hears He May Retire If Given Guard to Seaport.

CAPITAL IN FEAR OF VILLA

Change in Cabinet Might Prepare Way for Choice of Successor—Armistice Broken at Vera Cruz.

Vera Cruz, May 4.—Persistent reports continue to circulate here that General Huerta intends to retire from the provisional presidency of Mexico on condition that he be assured a safe conduct to a port and placed on board a foreign warship.

It is declared in some Mexican circles in this city that he was ready to resign a week ago, but was prevented from doing so by internal dissensions in his cabinet. The disappearance from the Mexican cabinet of Jose Lopez Portillo y Rojas, the foreign minister, coupled with reports that there is a growing undercurrent of feeling in Mexico City against the Huerta government is interpreted here as foreshadowing a change in the situation in the federal capital.

Prepare Way for Successor.

Some of the closest observers here of the government's situation express an inclination to the view that Senor Portillo's resignation may clear the way eventually for the appointment of a foreign minister who, under the Mexican constitution, could succeed General Huerta as president. The effect of the continued rebel successes in the north and the outcome of the pending attack on Tampico may bring about a rapid change in Mexico City.

Steamer Sunk by Mine.

City of Mexico, May 4.—A dispatch said to come from Manzanillo, on the Pacific coast, announces that the Mexican steamship Luella was sunk in the harbor by the explosion of a mine which had been planted to destroy the United States cruiser Raleigh. No loss of life is mentioned. The steamer belonged to the Pacific Railway company.

More Troops to Border.

Washington, May 4.—At a long conference between Secretary of War Garrison and Chief of Staff Wotherpoon, the situation along the Mexican border and at Vera Cruz, where the federals, with a much larger force than the Americans have there, were reported to be threatening the water supply of the city, was discussed, but no order was announced except one to move five companies of coast artillery to Brownsville, Tex., to replace about five hundred members of the Texas guard stationed there by Governor Colquitt.

It was reported around the war department that General Funston had heard that the Mexican forces near Vera Cruz were about to be reinforced.

Mexicans Break Armistice.

Secretary Garrison received an additional report from Brigadier General Funston, commanding the force at Vera Cruz, regarding the demand by Mexican federal soldiers for the surrender of the pumping station at El Tejar and the shooting that followed before the Mexicans withdrew.

This incident is not regarded as serious. Technically the demand for the surrender of the pumping station, with the threat of an attack in case of refusal, was a violation of the agreement for cessation of hostilities made by Huerta and the United States at the request of the A.-B.-C. mediators. It was declared that the Mexican officer, Major Zapata, was probably acting on his own initiative in making the demand for the surrender.

May Call More U. S. Troops.

The naval vessels under Rear Admiral Badger will remain at Vera Cruz for the present to support the army in case the Mexican forces which are assembling at Soledad, Jalapa and Palma make an aggressive move.

Tells of Mexican Strength.

"I am in receipt of a dispatch from General Funston," said Mr. Garrison, "regarding the incident at the pumping plant. He says that the officer in command of the Mexican troops was Major Zapata of the engineer corps of the Mexican army. He refers to the fact that very little dependable news about the conditions in the interior is coming in, because no more refugees are now coming into Vera Cruz."

"It is reported to him that General Maas has about four thousand men at Soledad, and there are an unknown number, not large, watching our lines. He understands that the Mexicans have 5,000 troops at Jalapa and about fifteen hundred at Palma, where they are throwing up defenses."

Coast Artillery to Border.

Mobile, Ala., May 4.—A detachment of 10 members of the United States coast artillery battalion stationed at Fort Morgan, Ala., at the entrance of Mobile bay, under command of G. Taylor, left on a special train for duty on the border.

MAY 4th

THEN and NOW

One hundred and twenty years ago today occurred the events which resulted in an insurrection for the independence of Ireland. At midnight of that day, Dublin was in an uproar. The doors of a local legislative reform club, a branch of the United Irishmen Society, burst open with a crash. In the doorway stood the scarlet-coated soldiers of the king, covering the assembly of Irishmen with their guns. The leaders were arrested and carried off to jail for treason. From this moment dates the insurrection that was fought out four years later. Ireland was flooded with government troops, but the Society grew rapidly. Oaths of membership and secrecy were administered. Pikes and munitions of war were secretly distributed and hidden for the uprising. The Society had over 500,000 members, at the beginning of 1798. Stern measures to stamp out the rebellion were instituted. The insurrection began near Spafford on the 24th of May. It raged for a month, closing in the battle of Vinegar Hill, with a victory for the government. The rebellion cost the lives of 150,000 Irishmen and 20,000 English. Three years later the Irish Parliament was removed from Dublin and united with the English at London.

Today, after more than a century under the rule of the Parliament at London, it is proposed to restore the Irish Parliament, taken away in 1801, and to give Ireland home rule. The country is split in two over the proposition. The province of Ulster at the north declares against the proposal, while the remainder of Ireland demands it. The House of Commons has twice passed the bill, and the third passing, when the bill becomes law, is near. More than 100,000 men in Ulster stand in defiance against the proposed government. They are organized into a citizen's army, with some Great Britain's greatest soldiers as their leaders. They are drilling and learning to shoot straight. Munitions of war are being gathered. A fund of $5,000,000 is being raised for the support of "the dependent relatives who may be wounded or killed in the fighting." The leaders of the government are striving to avert civil war, by conciliatory measures. More than 25,000 British troops are assembled today in the government barracks in Ulster to put down any uprising.

WOMEN SHOULD TAKE WARNING

If the statement made at a New York Assembly of women, that healthy American women are so rare that they are almost extinct, is true, it is time for the women of America to take warning and look to their health. It may be headaches, backaches, dragging down pains, nervousness, mental depression, that are tell-tale symptoms of some organic derangement for which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—a simple remedy made from roots and herbs—is a specific and may be relied upon to restore women to a healthy normal condition.

GLASS OF SALTS IF YOUR KIDNEYS HURT

Eat less meat if you feel Backachy or have Bladder trouble—Salts fine for Kidneys.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

PEACE OFFER TURNED DOWN BY CARRANZA

Rebel Chief Says Quarrel Cannot Be Decided by Diplomacy.

WILL CONTINUE REVOLUTION

General Tells Washington Officials That He Accepted Mediation So That U. S. Could Get Reparation From Huerta.

Washington, May 4.—Mediation in the Mexican situation must continue as between the United States and Huerta, if at all, with Carranza eliminated. Representatives of the A-B-C powers decided to notify Secretary Bryan that they cannot continue their efforts under the terms of acceptance of the good offices as laid down by Secretary Bryan in his note. This decision of the mediators is the result of the receipt of the formal reply of General Carranza to the proposal for a suspension of hostilities.

The text of General Carranza's telegram follows:
"I again direct myself to you for the purpose of answering your respectful message relative to the armistice, calling your attention to the fact that the international conflict with the United States was intentionally provided by Huerta, and for the solution of this I hurriedly accepted, in principle only, the good offices of Brazil, Argentina and Chile.

Explains Why He Refuses.
"This act is independent of our internal strife for liberty and law and I consider it inconvenient for the rebel cause that I represent to suspend hostilities and military movements, because said suspension would only accrue to the benefit of Huerta in the civil war now going on in Mexico between the usurper Huerta and the constitutional army under my command.

"The sovereign citizenship is in arms with all activity to re-establish as soon as possible the constitutional order which will produce peace.

"By virtue of the above I state to you that I cannot accept the armistice which you propose.

"Consider my act solely as one who is acting with the determination of doing only what he considers best for the interests of his native country."

Belittle Truce at Tampico.
No importance is attached to the report that the rebels and federals at Tampico are arranging a truce. It is assumed that, if true, the cessation of hostilities is for the purpose of burying the dead or removing the wounded.

Soon after his arrival at Torreon this week General Carranza expects to visit the City of Durango to establish a civil government there.

The situation in Durango has caused the supreme chief of the rebels much anxiety because of the dominance of the Arrieta brothers, Benjamin and Dominguez. These men, having recruited three or four thousand men, announced allegiance to Carranza, but it is alleged that they have used the rebel banner merely as a cloak for looting and outrage.

FIND SLAIN RANCHER'S BODY

Friends Remove Remains of U. S. Man From Mexico.

Laredo, Tex., May 4.—The body of Porfirio Laurel, an American ranchman, who disappeared last November, was recovered from a grave near Nuevo Laredo, Mex. Laurel had been arrested by Mexican federals, who persistently denied reports of his execution. Until the body was exhumed the Texan's fate was a mystery. Recovery of the ranchman's body was made possible by the federal evacuation of Nuevo Laredo. Rebel officers interposed no objection to the investigation of relatives and friends, which resulted in the location of the grave. The body will be brought to the American side today for burial. Laurel's son identified the body.

RECOMMEND COLONY PLAN

State Charities Commission Makes Suggestions For The New Epileptic Colony At Dixon And State Insane Hospital At Alton.

In a report just submitted to Governor Dunne and the Board of Administration, Mr. A. L. Bowen, executive secretary of the State Charities commission, recommends that the new state hospital for insane at Alton and the epileptic colony at Dixon be constructed on the colony plan, using one story buildings for certain types of the insane and one story buildings for all types of epileptics.

The recommendations are based upon what Mr. Bowen saw on a recent trip of investigation to institutions in the east. He says, "The tendency of the times are marked in the direction of simplicity of style and construction and from the city toward the open country and from the congregation to the colony method of housing."

"The next objective is normal environment whether for insane, children or epileptics. The effort is all directed toward giving them the same environment that they have either been used to or that they should have in a free existence."

"In line with the policy of normality in environment small capacity is the rule. Indeed the nearest ideals are found in one story frame cottages just such as the average man and woman lives in."

"The modern plan subdivides an institution into colonies, each of which is a unit with its general dining room, a central kitchen serving several colonies. The colonies are located a distance apart, in some cases as great as a mile."

The report speaks at length of the work which is being done by eastern psychopathic institutes and clinics in research in all phases of nervous and mental diseases.

Attached to these institutions are facilities for social service, such as out patient and after care. The leading medical schools are requiring practical, adequate courses in mental and nervous diseases as a requisite to graduation and license to practice. These state institutions afford them the facilities they require in these subjects.

Among those visited were the new Boston Psychopathic Institute, and the new Phipps Psychiatric Clinic in Baltimore, the latter having been donated to Johns Hopkins Medical school by Henry Phipps.

Under the head of Service, Care and Treatment, Mr. Bowen expresses the opinion that insane patients in New York and Massachusetts are given more individual attention than they receive in Illinois. The hospitals are not so crowded as ours and they appear to have a knack or handling disturbed, untidy and violent classes. He discussed the various means used to prevent the spread of the "contagion of excitement."

Every effort is made to give the patient the surroundings he would find in the average home, hence the number of screens and bars on windows, and the doors that are locked, are relatively smaller than in Illinois.

In the wards for these classes of patients there are pictures on walls, rugs on the floors, furniture and flower vases, clocks, knives, forks, spoons and china ware on the tables. The report says that the raw foods furnished the patients are not so good as those bought by Illinois, but that the system of cooking, distributing and serving the meals is better.

Mr. Bowen urges a change in our policy so that patients in our insane hospitals may make their own clothing and shoes. In the eastern hospitals this is done, thereby affording the patients a certain individuality in dress and a larger number of them profitable employment.

Reeducation and reoccupational training forms one of the strong features of hospital care in those states.

The report notes many improvements in toilet facilities, the result of which has been a reduction in untidiness.

The insane from the metropolitan district of New York City are first taken to Bellevue hospital, thence are transferred to the state hospitals in special hospital cars, provided with diet kitchens, and pharmacy, and with a member of the staff and a trained nurse in attendance.

Mr. Bowen mentions three reasons for this improved service, namely, additional cost, second, competition of the large private institutions, such as Bloomingdale, and third, the continuity of the service. Many of the superintendents have served for long periods in the state hospitals, having risen from the bottom to the top.

The report contains an account of three large orphanages, first a protestant, located at Dobbs Ferry, second a Catholic, located at Lincoln, and a third, a Jewish, located at Pleasantville, New York. All three are developments from the old style barracks seen in the cities. Each has been designed on the cottage plan, each cottage accommodating more than thirty. The republic system of administration is in vogue. Everything that snacks of the orphanage has been removed. Natural home conditions and environments have been secured in a high degree.

At the Jewish institution the children are given a high school course, supplemented by training in manual and vocational lines and are graduated at sixteen years, capable of passing the entrance examination at Columbia.

The Catholic institution fits Catholic boys for farm and dairy life in New York.

Special attention is paid to the health of all such children. There are three elements in these institutions that stand out foremost. First, the home and religious spirit, second the hospital service where the physical being is remade and third, the schooling in books, trades and occupations.

The best types of colonies for epileptics were found at Letchville Village at New York and Newcastle, Indiana. The colony system in its purest form has been adopted in these two institutions.

The report contains a detailed account in description of each of the twenty-three institutions that were visited.

DEMENTTOWN

Just because an armistice has been reached in the Mexican situation is no indication that war on the fly should be called off. Keep on swatting brother.

A Missouri woman advertised for and secured a husband. The ad cost her $2. The husband had been a soldier in the Spanish American war, and when he died the other day he left his widow insurance amounting to $5,000 and besides she will get a widow's pension from the U. S. Surely it pays to advertise.

If reports are true there is one mighty small man in Dixon who protested against the erection of a fire escape on an adjacent property because in case of fire the occupants of that building might cross his holdings in case of fire. Can you beat it?

Lovers who are out walking these pleasant (?) evenings are advised to take a look at the big dipper in case they become thirsty.

A certain Dixon family thought that they'd move rather than clean house, but unfortunately the same idea occurred to the people who vacated the house they moved into.

as it's called, is a Glowing Coil Electric Stove, small and light—you can carry in your hand but it's powerful enough in action to do a great deal of the regular cooking for the family with current taken from any lamp socket—and a moderate amount of that.

It employs the common tin, nicked, steel and granite ware dishes that are part of the equipment of every kitchen. Neither aluminum or specially built utensils are necessary. Look at the pictures. They don't show all the dishes usable.

It will boil, fry, stew, toast—it will operate a common cereal cooker. On those quick occasions that arise it's transformable into a chafing dish and—note this—if you get a chord long enough you can cook breakfast on it on the porch when summer's breath grows torrid.

SOMETHING WE NEED.

Looked at from any angle, Dixon needs a township high school and needs it badly, and never until we have such an institution will the schools of this city be up to the standard that should be demanded. The schools here are good, but not good enough. As far as they go in education they give the very best, but they could go farther with the pupils, and they should. Fine schools are the most necessary of anything and they are the biggest factors in a city's growth and welfare, for with the schools lies the big responsibility of making the men and women of the future, and if the schools of Dixon can be made better the men and women who will occupy our city will be better and more capable of advancing the city's interests and raising its standard of living.

From an economical, educational and every other standpoint the township high school plan is the one that is the best for Dixon. We have gone over the reasons why the new high school is needed in Dixon several times. They are apparent to all. Someone should take steps to have the matter brought before the voters and we believe that they would set the stamp of their approval on the plan by voting it through. It would be a big step in advance and there is no reason why it should be delayed.

THE NEW COUNTY HOME.

As the Telegraph has stated in these columns several times heretofore, Lee county needs a new county home and needs it the worse way. The present county home is a disgrace to this large and wealthy district and is a menace to the lives of its helpless occupants. It is on land that is either too poor or too small to properly support it and is in a poor location for easy access from Dixon, from which the bulk of the business with the county home must be done.

The land now occupied should be sold and a new home, one that will be a credit to Lee county should be erected on a farm of large proportions, where the best of sanitation can be secured, and close to Dixon.

There are several beautiful locations near this city and along Rock river. The county board is becoming interested in the matter and will probably take some action upon it during the coming year. The county chairman is alive to the situation and realizes that something must be done. The Telegraph petitions him to use his power to get action on the county home problem and get it worked out so that work can commence on a new home as quickly as possible.

NO PRESENT WORRY.

Quite a significant statement was made by the Japanese minister of foreign affairs a few days ago when he said Japan did not intend to take advantage of the Mexican crisis to demand of the United States a "satisfactory settlement" of the California land question.

It is made quite evident that the present settlement is not satisfactory, and the impression is carried that Japan intends to demand a satisfactory settlement at some time.

In the meantime the United States will not worry, and Japan may go on relieving the periodic famines caused by the raising of money to pay interest on the Russian war debt.—Clinton Herald.

THAT GLORIOUS FUTURE.

Where, oh, where, are the hitching posts that the council talked of having installed for our friends, the farmers, to tie their teams to when they come to the city to visit us? They seem to be in the future with the street fusher, the garbage disposal system, the pulmotor, the improved river banks and a few more things that have been left undone. But then, life is long and hope is ever strong.

WAR ON THE FLY.

If we don't have to go to war with Mexico we can stay home and swat the fly. We don't know but that the U. S. army could do a better service to the country by going to war with the flies, anyway. If Dixon don't get a system of garbage disposal pretty soon, the flies will carry the election here all right, swat as many as we may.

WATCH THE SPEEDERS.

Complaint is made to the Telegraph that motorcyclists and automobilists, particularly the former, are not using all the care they should in observing the speed laws. They should reflect that Dixon now has a "motor-cycle cop" who can travel just as fast as they can, and a few arrests and fines may cool the wild desire for speed in some of them.

The convict built road near Grand Detour is a big improvement on the old one that used to go up the hill, but it's a long way from perfect now. More top dressing is needed badly and big, loose rocks encumber the path. Until it is fixed we would say that it is not such a great credit to the state after all.

At least one good that resulted in the cessation of hostilities between Uncle Sam and Mexico is that the Americans in the clutches of the latter have had a better chance to escape.

This is the "clean up" time of the year. There are back yards and alleys in Dixon that would improve with a few hours' work. Clean 'em up, folks.

Eating Too Much

BY WALT MASON

I have the measles and the croup, the shingles and the mumps; my teeth have long been in the soup, aches playing round their stumps; oh, I have bunions on my jaws, I have to use a crutch, and Doc, he says it's all because I'm eating too blamed much. I have the foot and mouth disease, of which the sawbones talks, and I've a pair of housemaids' knees, and likewise chickenpox. All native ailments I have got, and ailments French and Dutch, and Doc, he says—he makes me hot! I'm eating too darned much. And that's the way that Science goes, in these bad-blistered days; there is no pity for your woes, for any howl you raise. When you are bent beneath disease, the doctor prods your frame, and springs again the same old wheeze: "My friend, you are to blame! You eat too much, you sleep too long, you don't take exercise; you never can be well and strong till you reform," he cries. Why can't he cure us with his pills, and cut we have got the price? Why can't he cure us with his pills, and cut out good advice?

FIFTY DIE IN FIRE TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

Valparaiso, Chile, May 4—Over 50 lives were lost in a fire which early today destroyed several buildings of flimsy construction in the commercial section of the city.

SPECIAL STRIKE SESSION.

(The Associated Press.)

Denver, Colo., May 4—A special session of the legislature convened today to take action in connection with the strike situation.

LECTURE POSTPONED.

The Travel lecture, which was to have been given tomorrow evening at the opera house by Bruce Leffingwell under the auspices of the Men's club of the Y. M. C. A. has been indefinitely postponed because of an accident to Mr. Leffingwell, in which he suffered a sprained ankle. He has wired the Dixon association that he will give them another date as soon as possible.

CURRENT COMMENT

COMMENT ON MEXICO.

Springfield Republican:—It is a great pity—and the tragedy of it spoils the comedy—that the people of Mexico should be fed by their censored newspapers with such ridiculously mendacious reports as that England, France and Germany have declared war on the United States, and that American soil has been invaded by the Mexican armies. The newspapers of Mexico City have not yet been allowed to print the news of the capture of Torreon by Villa. At this rate, they may announce within a week that the Federal General Velasco has captured New Orleans and is threatening Washington. General Huerta is a master journalist, but our common trouble may be prolonged by his methods.

London Post:—Mr. Wilson would be utterly lacking in imagination and the foresight of a statesman, if he were not anxious to take advantage of any honorable means to escape from a very difficult position. The most serious consequences of war with Mexico would not be the losses of blood and treasure. Far greater would be the effect produced on the relations between the United States and the whole Latin-America.

Indianapolis News:—The American government and General Huerta have accepted the offer of Argentine, Chile and Brazil to use their good offices for the purpose of bringing about an adjustment of the difficulty between the United States and Mexico. An arrangement made under such auspices would do much to strengthen the relations between this country and its Latin-American neighbors. Here we have five American powers working for peace and good will in the western hemisphere. It is said that our government is not very hopeful of results. In truth, the task is one of extreme difficulty. But it would be very foolish to assume in advance that the thing can be done. Neither of the mediating powers, by the way, has recognized Huerta.

VICTOR TYPEWRITER

THE Victor Typewriter is years ahead of every other typewriter. It has exclusive features and improvements that no other machine has.

Twelve years were spent in perfecting its typebar, the big essential in all typewriter construction.

Its ribbon economy is perfect. One hundred per cent. of the ribbon is used—not twenty-five or fifty per cent—the limit of other machines—a saving of from $4.50 to $6.75 on each typewriter in one year alone.

Every VICTOR Equipped with Decimal Tabulator and Billing Device in-built in the machine, without extra cost—a saving of $20.00.

The Victor has a ball-bearing carriage, interchangeable platen, wide-bearing typebars and many other features that make it more than the peer of all other typewriters—for the quality of its WORK, its SPEED, its DEPENDABILITY.

The largest metropolitan newspapers, great publishing houses, mail order houses and great advertisers are using the Victor for their intense work.

The International Correspondence School of Scranton, Pennsylvania, the largest institution of its kind in the world, ordered 7,500 Victor Typewriters for use of their students all over the world.

We can prove everything we say of the Victor Typewriter in a five-minute demonstration.

MEXICAN WAR PENSION.
Although it is nearly 66 years since the war with Mexico was ended officially, on July 4, 1848, there were 1,442 veterans of that war upon the rolls of the pension bureau at the close of the fiscal year, each drawing $30 a month. There were also 5,123 widows of soldiers in that war receiving pensions from the government.

As there were only 30,954 regulars and 73,776 volunteers, a total of 112,230 American soldiers engaged in the struggle which officially began 68 years ago last Friday, the soldiers of that period must have been a hardy lot for a boy of 15 at the close of the war would now have passed the scriptural allotment of three score and ten years, and been well on the second half of his fourth score of years. The larger number of widows on the rolls is accounted for by the fact, that as in the case of the civil war veterans, many hundreds of those who fought in the Mexican war under took a second and even a third wife late in life.

Inquiry at the office of the Grand Army memorial committee in the New York City hall, where records are kept of the veterans of United States wars, brought out the fact that there are veterans of the Mexican war living in New York City.

Soldiers of the Mexican war and their dependents, received no pensions for their service until nearly 31 years after the war closed, the first act for their benefit bearing date of January 20, 1877. Since that time the cost of these pensions to the government nt, up to the close of the last fiscal year, was $47,632,572.

Congressman Foster Holds All Differences Can Be Arbitrated.

FLAILS JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER

Holds Oil Magnate's Son Responsible for Trouble in Colorado—Troops or Guards Fired Tents, Verdict.

Washington, May 5.—The belief that there are no differences in the Colorado coal strike which cannot be arbitrated and that John D. Rockefeller, Jr., cannot evade responsibility for refusing arbitration were the declarations of Congressman M. F. Foster of Illinois, chairman of the house committee on mines and mining on Saturday.

Congressman Foster made these statements coincident with making public the telegrams exchanged between him and Mr. Rockefeller relative to negotiations for settling the strike and ending the warfare in Colorado. The telegrams followed Mr. Foster's interview with Mr. Rockefeller in New York earlier in the week in which the congressman figured as the personal representative of President Wilson.

"In my conference with Mr. Rockefeller at his New York office," Doctor Foster said, "I urged on him the importance of submitting the differences between the striking miners and the operators to a fair and neutral board of arbitration, believing the trouble could be peacefully settled.

Differences Can Be Settled.
"There is nothing in the differences which cannot be settled by arbitration. 'I understand, from the statement of Mr. William Green, secretary-treasurer of the International Mine Workers' union, the demand that the union be recognized is not now the issue.

"The great question now confronting the strikers and owners is, 'Will you agree to submit the matter to adjustment by arbitration?'
"Mr. Rockefeller cannot evade his responsibility. He cannot set forth the excuse that he will not arbitrate the recognition of the union. The great anthracite strike in Pennsylvania and also the recent West Virginia strike was settled by men on both sides agreeing to abide by the decision of umpires.

Under the authority of the president, Secretary of War Garrison issued a proclamation calling upon the people in the strike district of Colorado to surrender all arms and ammunition to the United States army officers now in charge at the various trouble localities.

The proclamation, addressed to Major Holbrook at Trinidad, is in the most sweeping terms and demands the disarming of not only strikers but the mine guards.

Militia or Guards Fired Tent.
Trinidad, Colo., May 4.—The fire which destroyed the Ludlow tent colony on the night of April 20, causing the deaths of 13 women and children, was started by militiamen or mine guards, or both, according to the verdict rendered by the coroner's jury.

U. S. Puts Embargo on Arms.
Trinidad, Colo., May 4.—Major Holbrook, in command of the federal troops in Colorado, placed an embargo upon the importation of arms or ammunition into the state. He announced that any arms shipped in violation of the order would be confiscated.

The order applies to any arms or ammunition for the use of any person for any purpose whatever, except for the use of federal troops.

Mayor Holbrook sent a letter to Mayor Dunlavy directing him to keep the saloons of Trinidad closed until further orders.

Nation-Wide Strike Urged.
Indianapolis, Ind., May 4.—Whether or not the United Mine Workers of America shall call a nation-wide strike in protest of conditions in the mining districts of Colorado will be decided by the executive committee of the organization which convened today.

Charleston, W. Va., May 4.—The walk-out of the 10,000 union miners in the Kanawha field is expected to reach an acute stage today, as the officials of District No. 17, United Mine Workers of America, ordered the miners to return to work today pending conferences of union officials and operators.

GOULD MAY QUIT ROAD

Kuhn, Loeb & Co. Said to Have Accepted Offer.

New York, May 4.—It has been learned on good authority that a conference of members of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and other business men was held at which, it is believed, some decision was made as to whether the bankers will accept the offer of George J. Gould to sell his and the Gould estate's holdings in Missouri Pacific and provide for the financing of the $25,000,000 notes that road has coming due June 1.

Catholic Bishop Dies in Mexico.
Mexico City, May 4.—Right Rev. Manuel Rivera, Roman Catholic bishop of Queretaro, died suddenly while driving in an anti-American parade.

MAJ. GENERAL D. E. SICKLES

General Daniel E. Sickles, U. S. A., reited, who died at his home in New York city was born in New York Oct.
20, 1825. He was retired from active service in 1869.

GEN. D. E. SICKLES DIES

Last of Great Civil War Commanders Passes Away.

Reconciliation With His Wife at Deathbed Ends Marital Estrangement of Twenty-Nine Years.

New York, May 4.—Gen. Daniel E.
Sickles died at his home here. He had been ill since March, when he suffered a hemorrhage. A week ago last Thursday he was seized with another hemorrhage and was compelled to take to his bed.

At his bedside were his son, Stanton, and his wife, from whom he was estranged for 29 years until Thursday.
At reconciliation was effected at that time through the untiring efforts of the son, and since then Mrs. Sickles had been nursing the aged veteran.
When it became apparent Saturday night that his death was almost certain, Mrs. Sickles, it was said, took her place by her husband's side and, although he had been unconscious for an hour prior to his death, she was holding his hand when he breathed his last.

In the public mind the greatest tragedy of Sickles' life was the killing of Philip Barton Key, grandson of the author of "The Star Spangled Banner," and the sensational trial—one of the most famous in the annals of American courts—in which the "unwritten law," perhaps for the first time, served to acquit an assassin.

Sickles was found not guilty and within a year took back his erring wife—a thing which provoked much criticism. She died a few months after of a broken heart.

At the outbreak of the Civil war Sickles welcomed the opportunity to plunge into battle. He raised the famous Excelsior brigade in New York, taking command of one of its regiments as colonel. Lincoln in 1861 raised him to brigadier general. His fighting spirit early won him his spurs. On the peninsula and at Ant-ietam he distinguished himself as a soldier and leader. At Chancellorsville he led a division. At Gettysburg he led the Third corps, lost a leg, and became a national hero.

After the war his fighting spirit led him into the regular army, and he became first brigadier and then major general. He continued active service until 1869, when he was appointed minister to Spain by President Grant. Here he contracted his second marriage. The Spanish wife of General Sickles was Carolina Martinez Guerrero, daughter of a councilor of state who had died young.
She was mistress of the robes to Queen Isabella when she met Sickles.
How they became estranged has never been told.

In 1908 Mrs. Sickles came from Madrid and toiled to regain her place in the heart of the stern old warrior, but the general was obdurate. The state threatened to sell his home to settle for a shortage due from the monument commission, but it was found the wife had rightful claim upon the general's home through a chattel mortgage. She had prevented sale of his effects in December, 1912, by advancing $13,000 and holding the mortgage. It was by her efforts that to the last the general was surrounded by his war relics at the old home, 23 Fifth avenue.
